Stevenson to Address Farm Crowd Today

Leaves for 11-State Swing on 'Joe Smith Express'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson left Washington today for the first major trip of his presidential campaign—an 11-state swing including an important farm speech in the heart of the corn belt.

The farm speech will be made in Newton, Iowa, today. Stevenson's chartered airliner, labeled the "Joe Smith Express," took off from Washington National Airport at 6:30 a. m. CST. A press plane followed a few minutes later.

"Joe Smith Express" was painted on the fuselage of the four-engine airliner. It was another reference to the mythical Joe Smith which a delegate to the GOP National Convention vainly tried to nominate for vice president. The convention chairman, Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr., bluntly told the delegate to take his Joe Smith and get out. Democrats have seized on the incident as allegedly showing Republican disdain for the common man.

Stevenson was traveling in President Eisenhower's wake. Only Friday the Chief Executive addressed himself to a crowd at the same Iowa site.

Motorcade to Newton

Stevenson's immediate destination today was Des Moines, Iowa. A motorcade will take him from there to Newton. He will fly from Des Moines tonight to Denver, to talk at a rally.

Stevenson's swing will take him to 11 states before he winds up in the twin cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis, Minn. Sept. 29. He will campaign in Iowa, Colorado, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana, Florida, Missouri, Kansas, Indiana, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Of the 11 only Arkansas and Louisiana fell into the Democratic column in the presidential election four years ago.

This was billed as Stevenson's "first" campaign trip but actually he has been barnstorming for much of the past four weeks. During that period, he has covered almost 12,000 miles.

Stratton Visits Orient Mine; Austin, Douglas Share Platform

By United Press
Gov. William G. Stratton Friday dramatized his administration's efforts to improve mine safety by descending 545 feet into Orient Mine No. 2 near West Frankfort where 119 men died in an explosion Dec. 21, 1951.

Stratton spoke later Friday at Mount Vernon where he listed accomplishments of his administration and said that during the past four years there had been no horse meat scandals in Illinois.

This was a slap at his predecessor, Democratic presidential candidate Adlai E. Stevenson.

Stratton said his administration raised the formula for state aid to schools from $160 per pupil to $200 per pupil.

The governor was in southern Illinois in a Republican campaign caravan with Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter, Atty. Gen. Latham C. Castle and Elbert S. Smith, candidate for state auditor.

The Democratic candidate for governor, Judge Richard B. Austin, meanwhile, campaigned in the Chicago suburbs, riding in a parade from his Flossmoor home to Rich Township High School in Park Forest for a speech.

Austin shared the platform with Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.), who said of the Republican vice-presidential pick, "The prosperity

Suez Conference Fails to Call for Canal Showdown

Nicaraguan President is Wounded by Gunman in Attempted Assassination

LEON, Nicaragua (AP) — President Anastasio Somoza was wounded in an attempted assassination here Friday night.

An unidentified gunman pumped three bullets into Somoza's body as the president and his wife were entering the "Workers' House" to take part in an official celebration.

One bullet penetrated the president's chest, another broke his arm and the third hit him in the leg. He was taken to San Vicente Hospital, where physicians said his condition is not serious.

The would-be assassin was shot dead by Somoza's bodyguards. A bystander was wounded in the exchange of shots.

The government proclaimed a state of siege immediately after the assassination attempt. The army took charge of the investigation.

An undetermined number of persons has been arrested.

U. S. Ambassador Thomas E. Whelan has asked that specialists be sent from the United States to attend the wounded president.

Somoza, who has been the dominant figure in Nicaraguan politics for more than 20 years, was nominated Friday for another term as president by his Liberal Party.

Eisenhower, Staff Well Pleased At Reception on Trip to Iowa

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and his staff today praised the results of his first campaign trip of the year, a two-day jaunt in the politically-important farm belt.

The Chief Executive returned here Friday night from Iowa, where he spoke before an estimated audience of 75,000 persons at the mammoth national plowing contest near Newton.

In Des Moines, Mr. Eisenhower saw his first big campaign crowd of the year as he toured the heart of the city prior to leaving for Washington. Some police officials estimated the crowd in excess of 100,000 persons.

The president and members of his staff seemed pleased by the results of the Iowa trip and the reception accorded Mr. Eisenhower.

However, reporters accompanying the President noted that a great portion of the wild crowd scene that developed around the motorcade in downtown Des Moines was generated to a large extent by thousands of school children who raced down the street beside the autos bearing the Eisenhower party.

The reception at the plowing contest was friendly, but not explosive. Mr. Eisenhower was applauded several times during his speech.

The Chief Executive will expound his farm policies at length in a nationwide radio-TV broadcast from Peoria, Ill., next Tuesday night.

Before leaving Des Moines for the capital, Mr. Eisenhower set what probably will be the tone of his overall campaign. He told a crowd of several thousand at the Des Moines Airport:

"Comparing 1952 to 1956, whether it be on the international or on the internal domestic and economic front, sees 1956 better in every single way."

Mr. Eisenhower said the Republicans were by no means "stupid enough" to claim credit for every advance of the last four years.

He said, however, that the GOP had tried and succeeded "in establishing an atmosphere in government that encourages every single human being to do his best—assured that what he gains for himself will be under his own initiative and that he can keep it, subject to the necessity of paying his fair share of the taxes that his country demands and needs."

Mr. Eisenhower said in his speech at the plowing contest that some Midwest farmers may think his farm policies are "crazy," but he is sure even the Democrats admit they are conceived in honesty.

The men gave their names as Paul Donald Smith, 27, Chicago, and Anthony Yurkitis, 46, Oakland, Ill. The third, about 28, refused to give officers his name. They identified him, however, as Charles D. Long.

Sen. Fulbright Charges Hodge Used FDIC for His 'Private Purposes'

Probe Chairman Hits Conflict of Interest Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. William Fulbright charged today that former Illinois State Auditor Orville E. Hodge used the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. for his "private purposes."

The Arkansas Democrat said in a statement that the FDIC conducted its dealings with Hodge "without sufficient vigor" and in the negotiations leading to the opening of the new bank of Elmwood Park, Ill., "capitulated to the demands of Hodge" on every important point there was disagreement.

portant point there was disagreement.

The Senate Banking Committee, headed by Fulbright, is investigating the role of the FDIC in the million dollar check fraud involving Hodge. The former official now is serving a 12 to 15 year sentence for embezzling state funds.

The investigation into the case brought out that Hodge has a substantial interest in the Elmwood Park bank.

Fulbright said that on the question of what the capital of the new bank would be, "Hodge won and got the FDIC to purchase bad assets and insure the bank with the smallest figure."

He said that "Hodge set up a lucrative deal for himself and for those who went over to him, and he did so by using the FDIC for his own purposes."

Accepts $15,000 Year Job

Fulbright added that the FDIC "was slow in acting in the first place" although it had noticed defects in the original bank. He said the FDIC's delay in taking action "was inexcusable."

In action late Friday, the committee learned that FDIC attorney John H. Russell took a $15,000-a-year job with the bank while he still was representing the FDIC in negotiations which led to formation of the bank.

Fulbright said "I think it's a very serious matter, this conflict of interest business."

Edward C. Telft, chief of the FDIC division of liquidation, testified that Russell told him a few days before the reorganization was completed that he had accepted a post as executive vice president of the new bank.

Other FDIC officials said they did not learn about the attorney's new job until weeks later. Ray M. Gidney, controller of the currency who serves as an FDIC board member, said he did not believe the board would have granted insurance to the bank if the facts had been known.

Fulbright said that taking a job with an "antagonist" under such circumstances "comes very close to undue influence—if not worse."

He questioned whether the job offer might amount to an offer of "value" which is forbidden under federal bribery laws.

Distraught Mother is Held for Fatally Wounding Sleeping Son, 10

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — Police held a distraught mother today who fatally wounded her sleeping son because she felt "we just don't fit in society."

Mrs. Julia Musiak, 29, was held on an open murder charge after her son, Stanley Frederick Musiak, 10, died Friday in a hospital here from bullet wounds in the back, chest and head.

Mrs. Musiak, who has been separated from her husband for about a year and a half, said she tipped to her son's bedside and shot him four times with a .22 caliber rifle because he "had no friends and wanted to die."

Police said the woman told of an earlier attempt to poison both the boy and herself which failed.

Rail, Union Talks Break Down

CHICAGO (AP) — Talks between the nation's railroads and two unions have broken down with both sides admitting the deadlock.

The National Mediation Board was asked Friday to step into the dispute involving the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and the Switchmen's Union of North America.

In other rail negotiations, representatives of 11 non-operating unions recessed their talks until early Monday.

No progress has been noted by the mediators who moved into a stalemate between the railroads and the Brotherhood of Firemen and Enginemen last week.

In Chicago a union leader for North Western employees said Friday that the group has voted overwhelmingly to strike sometime next week if settlements were not forthcoming in their dispute.

Charles R. Dennis, chairman of the Chairman's Association of the 11 rail unions involved, said the vote favored the strike by 98 per cent.

The North Western dispute involves what unions have termed a ruthless lay-off of workers. They are demanding the railroad pay severance pay equal to the entire earnings of the dismissed employee.

The nation-wide disputes involve contract negotiations.

Set Meeting For Oct. 1 to Organize Users

Conference is Regarded Setback For Britain, France

LONDON (AP) — Britain today invited the 18 Suez conference nations to send their ambassadors to a meeting here Oct. 1 to organize the new canal users' association.

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd sent the invitation to the nations represented at the conference which ended here Friday. Most of them probably will be represented at the October meeting.

The conference will set up a council representing the membership of the association. The council will then appoint a "shipping czar" and an executive committee to carry on the day-to-day work of the group.

It is probable, however, that the United Nations will be consulted before the association tries to send ships through the canal. France refuses to accept.

The London conference decision to avoid an immediate showdown with Egypt on the canal question was regarded here as a diplomatic setback for Britain and France.

Observers said the failure of the conference to put any "teeth" into the proposed Suez Canal users association would bolster Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser's prestige in the Arab, African and Asian worlds.

The 18-nation conference wound up Friday night in general agreement on a Suez Canal users association. But delegates agreed to support the association because of "loopholes" and "drawbacks" in the plan. In Paris today, the government announced France will join the association provided it stands firm behind the principle of international control of the canal.

All mention of force or imposing a solution on Nasser disappeared by the time the second London conference ended. Official Statement Issued

An official statement said that "the conference considers that recourse should be had to the United Nations whenever it seems this would facilitate a settlement."

A top delegation source went even further—he said the whole problem would be tossed into the laps of the United Nations early next month after the association has been formally established.

Premier Guy Mollet had originally demanded that the West "impose" a solution on Nasser. Reports from Paris said there was increased sentiment both inside and outside of the coalition cabinet to "go it alone" if necessary. Officials made no secret in private talks of their disappointment that France had not received American support for its firm stand in the dispute.

Create a Pretext

London: Moscow radio said the Western Big Three failed to "impose" their original plans for a canal users association on the other nations attending the conference. It said the conference had been convened by the United States, Britain and France to "create a pretext for lawful intervention" in the Suez area.

Cairo: Informed sources predicted Nasser will formally reject the canal users association just as he turned down the earlier Dulles plan for international control. Nasser flies to Saudi Arabia for conference with his Arab world allies to win additional support for his determination to stand fast.

Washington: The United States soon may take measures to bar American shipowners and operators from paying tolls to Egypt. If the move is approved, the U. S. Treasury would require tolls go into the Egyptian accounts which were frozen after the old Suez Co. was nationalized.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Hunting a Compromise

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT Realists in world politics felt from the start that the Cairo conference on the Suez Canal would at best provide a steppingstone rather than a solution to the problem of the waterway's future control.

Still hopeful Western diplomats must try now to find that solace in its failure.

It was clear at the outset, as it is today, that Egypt's President Nasser, who seized the canal July 26 from private Western hands, will not agree to any form of outright international control. The Cairo meeting was confirmation.

What Nasser will accept is, of course, the big question mark.

He knows full well that he cannot have it all his way. The conference showed him first hand how deeply disturbed the British and French are over the canal's future.

He understands, too, that Egypt isn't capable of running the waterway without British-French technical know-how as an aid.

We are at that stage where the need is for proposals which recognize the realities but leave a face-saving "out" for ambitious politicians like Nasser.

Obviously he isn't going to tolerate any arrangement which puts Egypt's sovereignty over the canal under the faintest cloud.

The requirement, therefore, is for a plan which assumes Egyptian sovereignty but affords the canal's users real—not just verbal —assurance that it will be operated efficiently and with an eye to the demands of expanding oil traffic.

Some kind of technical advisory board, with real teeth, is called for.

If it is too much to expect that Britain and France and other users would be satisfied with such an agency working directly with the Egyptian government, then Nasser might be pressed to establish some independent body to manage the canal.

This unit, while still Egyptian, would be divorced from the government proper. It might even have representatives of other Arab nations included to give it a greater flavor of independence.

Such an independent authority,
a good step removed from Nasser's daily political whims, might enable the Western nations dependent on Suez to breathe a bit easier. It seems reasonable to demand of Nasser that he go at least this far.

As for an international advisory board, it presumably could have real hope of doing the job if it were working in collaboration with an independent agency, even though the latter be basically Egyptian.

Perhaps such a board would be most palatable to Nasser and the Arab world if it were given United Nations status. Under such august sponsorship, it could not be assailed as a mere device for flouting Egyptian sovereignty.

To propose to moderate a compromise—as contrasted with true international control—might be to force Nasser's hand and compel him to yield his insistence on government-dominated management of Suez.

Even the other Arab lands and the misguided Indians might see the reasonableness of these two-sided concessions.

The alternatives appear to be use of force or complete knuckling under to Nasser by the West. No one really interested in free world welfare and safety wants either one.

This One Doesn't Count

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Divided Jerusalem is now a City of Suspicion; It Would Be a City of Peace; Israel
Has Spirit of American Pioneers.

JERUSALEM.—The stars seem closer to the earth over the Holy Land than anywhere else in the world. The palm trees and the poplar trees that the Moslems say "talk with God" reach up until they seem to touch the stars. And the stars are brighter. You can understand why they outshine themselves over Bethlehem 1956 years ago. Out under the stars, as you look across the city of Jerusalem, is the wall of the old city, cutting Jerusalem in two parts—one Arab, one Jewish—two parts that hate each other.
Behind that wall are mosques and churches. The Lutheran church, in Arab territory, is near the Holy Sepulchre where Christ was buried. The Garden of Gethsemane and the Mount of Olives are just beyond. You can see them, vague and shadowy under the moonlight, and you can hear the churchbells ring and the dogs bark in the stillness of the night. Those are the only sounds of life that come back from behind that ancient wall...
Arab guards pace the wall. Machine guns look down into the new city of Jerusalem to make sure no man approaches, to keep the iron curtain between the new and the old, between Jew and Arab.

ISALATED MT. SCOPUS

Just alongside the Mount of Olives on Mount Scopus is the beautiful Hadassah hospital; also the medical school of Hebrew University and the nurses home—all empty. New, modern, they represent the best in medical science that money can buy. But no patients are in their beds, no nurses walk their halls, no medical students study in their classrooms. Only a handful of janitors live in the buildings, replaced every two weeks by a United Nations truce team which passes Arab sentries to bring supplies and replacements. The reason:

The buildings, though still in Israel, are cut off by a little strip of Arab territory—part of the zig-zag border which wanders back and forth between Israel and Jordan. Beyond that little strip the Arabs will let no one pass. So Hadassah hospital and the medical university remain unused and empty.

LIFE GOES ON

In the rest of Jerusalem life goes on. There's no real worry or the Jewish side of the city, and no real worry on the Arab side.
The armed truce is taken as a matter of course. Most people would like to get rid of the suspicion and hate. Said the chief rabbi of Israel, Isaac Herzog, when I called at his home: "We should give the hospital on Mount Scopus to the Arabs for their people as a gesture of friendship. We could supply the medicine and the doctors and run it for the Arabs as our contribution to peace."...
The chief rabbi is a delightful old gentleman who used to be chief rabbi of Dublin. He speaks Hebrew with such an Irish accent that his people call him the Irish man of Jerusalem. Unfortunately, his views on the hospital were not reciprocated by Hadassah.
They have always admitted Arab patients, and would continue to do so, but said they would not let Arabs participate in its operation.

HAVEN FOR TOURISTS

In the rest of Israel, life also proceeds. Border patrols and border skirmishes are deplored,

but taken as a matter of course.
Israelis work and relax hard.
The hotels on week ends are crowded. The Smaron hotel near Tel Aviv, the King David in Jerusalem, many others are as modern and beautiful as any in the U. S. A. ... Israel, with its fascinating Biblical history, is a tourist's paradise, no matter what your religion. And as far as the Jews are concerned, all religions are welcome. Only religious problem Israel has is with its own extreme orthodox who stone automobiles that dare drive through the extreme orthodox quarter on Saturday, the Jewish sabbath.
They also oppose reformed synagogues or schools in Israel. But Prime Minister Ben-Gurion has overruled them; so also has the Jerusalem municipal council. ...
In Jerusalem flourishes one of the biggest YMCA's in the world. Its staff is largely Christian Arab, but the young men who cram the swimming pool, reading rooms, and recreation center of the Young Men's Christian Association are 90 per cent Jewish. ... thus in ancient Jerusalem, the City of Peace, Christians, Jews and Arabs live up to Jerusalem's name — on the Israeli side of the old wall.
Doubtless they would do so on both sides if it weren't for Arab leaders who keep hate propaganda alive.

A MIXED BLESSING

This Arab opposition to Israel is described by some as a blessing. Rev. William Hull, Protestant missionary in Jerusalem, told me that without Arab opposition Israel might never have been welded together. ... This may be true. Certainly the constant menace of Arab invasion has helped pull together Israel's 70 nationalities. ... But to me Israel has more than that. It has behind it the memory of 6,000,000 Jews who died in the gas chambers of Hitler. It has behind it the determination that these Jews must not have died in vain. It has behind it great respect for human dignity, great respect for tolerance, for the other fellow's right to think as he pleases. ... It also has great respect for equality. When you sit down to lunch your chauffeur sits with you. He does this as a matter of course. There are no beggars in Israel, and little tipping. It's considered menial.
This is a state founded by equals.
It's also a state where the garage mechanic may be found during the noon hour reading philosophy.
Of course I wasn't around at that particular time, but I suspect that Israel has behind it the same drive and dedication and determination of the early American pioneers. I suspect it was the same drive that impelled one of my great-grandfathers to spend 40 days crossing from Germany to Philadelphia in 1730; and impelled another grandfather to spend 30 days driving a prairie schooner from Illinois to Kansas. They, like the modern-day pioneer in Israel, were determined to survive. And modern-day Americans who may be inclined to put dollars ahead of idealism today might well take a lesson from the sacrifices of this little state, no bigger than Massachusetts and surrounded by Arabs, which has become the most dynamic influence and best friend of the U. S. A. in the Near East.

Peoria School Loan Refused

PEORIA (U)—Teachers in Peor-ia's schools may have to wait until July before being paid their salaries for April, May and June.

The Peoria school board was refused by banks when it requested a loan of $800,000 to pay teachers during the current school year.

The board acted under the presumption that it would not have sufficient funds to finish the term unless a referendum for higher taxes was approved in November.

The next school appropriation would be effective in July.

Miss Vera Ann VanMeter, Frankie Gene Blackman Wed at Hernando, Miss.

Mr. and Mrs. Frankie Gene Blackman

Mr. and Mrs. M. Ivin VanMeter of Carrier Mills announce the marriage of their daughter, Vera Ann, to Pvt. Frankie Gene Blackman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blackman, also of Carrier Mills.

The marriage was performed Sept. 7 at the First Baptist church of Hernando, Miss. The bride came down the aisle to the strains of the traditional wedding march. She was lovely in a dress of champagne colored brocade with matching accessories. She carried a white Bible, a gift of the bridegroom, adorned with small white mums and white satin streamers.

The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Durfee of Carrier Mills.

Both are graduates of the Carrier Mills Community high school. The bride is a graduate of Grady School of Laboratory Technique, St. Louis, Mo., and has been employed for the past three years as a registered laboratory technologist at Marion Memorial hospital.

The bridegroom received his B. S. degree from Southern Illinois University in June of 1955. He then taught one year at Carrier Mills Community high school before entering the Army in June of this year.

They will be at home after Sept. 28 in Fort Smith, Ark.

Though how it hurt to lose you.
Only those who loved you know.
Heartbreaks lie behind our smile.
And laughter hides the tears.
It seems like only yesterday.
Instead of six long years.
Sadly missed by his wife and daughters. 73-1

In Memoriam
In memory of A. J. Wasson, who passed away 7 years ago, Sept. 22, 1949:
The home was broken Dad,
When you had to go.
I am left so lonely,
No one will ever know.
It wouldn't be right to call you back
In this world of strife and wrong
But each day is still a memory
Of our family and home.
Sadly missed by his wife, Mrs. Ellen Wasson and children. 73-1

In Memoriam
In loving memory of our wife and mother, Mrs. Emma A. Warren who passed away Sept. 23, 1955:
She always leaned to watch for us,
Anxious if we were late,
In winter by the window,
In summer by the gate.
And though we mocked her tenderly
Who had such foolish care,
The long way home would seem more safe
Because she waited there.
Her thoughts were all so full of us,
She never could forget,
And so I think that where she is,
She must be watching yet.
Waiting till we come home to her,
Anxious if we are late;
Watching from Heaven's window,
Leaning from Heaven's gate.
Sadly missed by husband, children, grandchildren and great grandchildren. *73-1

A Personal Report to the People

from Your Friend and U. S. Congressman

KENNETH J. GRAY

The gavel has recently fallen, signaling the end of the 84th Congress. In making my report to you good people of Southern Illinois, I first want to express my heartfelt thanks to you for giving me the opportunity to stand up in the Halls of Congress and speak out in behalf of your wants and needs. It has truly been the busiest twenty months of my life, experiencing both heartaches and joys. I have tried with every ounce of energy I possess to sell Southern Illinois to the Congress and to the rest of the Nation. I have notified each Member of Congress and the National Administration that Southern Illinois has wonderful people, good schools, churches, and fine communities in which to live. I told them we were tired of the lack of recognition of our problems, as evidenced in the past.

In an effort to focus attention on our needs, I appeared before every Committee in Congress having under consideration legislation which I felt would benefit the people of Southern Illinois. I introduced a score of my own bills designed to help our people, and made numerous speeches on the floor of the House of Representatives in an effort to have legislation passed. At the same time, I tried to get every man, woman and child in Southern Illinois interested in my program and to lend some assistance in putting it over with other Members of Congress. During my twenty months in office, I made over two hundred speeches in Southern Illinois; several television appearances; and called the mass "Sink or Swim" Rally at West Frankfort on December 31, 1955. In addition, I paid for ads in Southern Illinois newspapers, asking you folks to write letters supporting certain pieces of legislation under consideration at the time, and sent out over 100,000 letters to organizations and individuals, asking them to write various Members of Congress for their support on certain legislation.

WITH ALL THE VALUABLE SUPPORT FROM YOU, the people of Southern Illinois, I was able to get through Congress in my first term a program I believe will be of great assistance to the social and economic welfare of the people of Southern Illinois. I shall not attempt to list my full twenty months' work in this report, however, THANKS TO YOUR HELP, the following are some of my accomplishments:

1. Helped pass the gigantic Highway Construction Program. As a member of the House Committee on Public Works, helped write the Federal Highway Construction Act of 1956 and worked for its passage. The bill provides 41,000 miles of new super-highways throughout the United States and specifically a new four-lane expressway through my congressional district in Southern Illinois. This will be the largest Public Works program in the history of this country. In addition to a wonderful road system, it will provide many jobs for our unemployed people in Southern Illinois. I was featured in the May 14 issue of Newsweek for my work on this bill.

2. Helped liberalize Social Security benefits. Introduced a companion measure to H. R. 7225, and worked for its final passage. This bill liberalizes Social Security benefits by lowering the retirement age to 62 for women, 50 for totally disabled persons, and extends coverage to thousands of people who were heretofore not covered. I still favor lowering age to 60.

3. Helped pass Veterans Benefits Bill in House. Introduced H. R. 6153, granting all WWI veterans $100 per month pension. A companion measure passed the House, allowing a pension for WWI veterans and increasing by 10% the amount of compensation being paid to service-connected disability veterans. Due to lack of support by the Senate, and the rush for adjournment, the House-passed measure did not reach the floor of the Senate for a vote. We are hopeful it can be taken up early in January. We were successful in getting enacted into law a bill allowing increased benefits to widows of deceased veterans, and other fringe benefits.

4. Secured approval of $4,300,000 for Devil's Kitchen Dam Project. This includes the construction of the dam, public beach, boat dock, a complete network of access roads, picnic areas, parking facilities and the long-sought leasing of cabin sites. Obtained $2,000,000 in cash with which to start the project with the announcement for competitive bids in September. (This is the first action on this project in 16 years.)

5. Secured $50,000 for flood control survey of the Cache River and tributaries. Thousands of acres of farm land are being inundated during each rainfall. (The people residing in the Cache River Basin had been trying for years to obtain funds with which to make this study.)

6. Secured $75,000 for a full scale study of the canalization of the Big Muddy and tributaries. If a study proves feasible, this project would open up new prospects for future industrialization of Southern Illinois by providing cheap transportation rates for our coal deposits and raw materials for prospective industries that might locate on the banks of the canal. I would not support a plan to hurt the railroads.

7. Secured through Congress $3,000,000 for flood control work in the 25th District for fiscal year 1956-1957. (Construction work will provide many jobs.)

8. Secured $25,000 for flood control study in Harrisonville and Ivy Landing and Draining District No. 2, Monroe County, Illinois. (Several thousand acres of land have been inundated by water up and down the Illinois side of the Mississippi River levee due to internal drainage during floods. This survey is a test case to find out what measures are needed to stop large loss in crops and land damages.)

9. Secured approval of Congress authorizing expenditure of $5,970,000 for flood control improvements on Saline River and tributaries. U. S. Army Corps of Engineers requested $930,000 local contribution. I was successful in having eliminated 75% of this amount, saving the local taxpayers $697,500. (President Eisenhower has since vetoed the Rivers and Harbors bill that contains this project.)

10. Secured purchase order for 100,000 tons of Illinois coal last year for overseas shipment by the Foreign Operations Administration.

11. Secured Congressional approval of $1,100,000 for a Federal Building at Benton, Illinois. In 1937, Congress designated Benton as a place to hold Federal Court, and since that time efforts have been made to have this much-needed facility built. This is the first concrete action since that date.

12. Secured a Civil Defense Warehouse at Ordill on Crab Orchard Lake where $4,500,000 worth of medical supplies are authorized to be stored for use in a National emergency with an authorized employee strength of thirteen.

13. Helped pass the Anti-Pollution Bill. As a member of the Subcommittee on Rivers and Harbors, worked for the passage of H. R. 9540, designed to assist in clearing up our streams and rivers by aiding municipalities to build adequate sewage disposal plants. Also worked to help secure $50,000,000 in appropriations with which to carry out the program for the first year. Illinois cities will receive $1,734,200 for the first year with the program to run for a ten-year period.

14. Secured passage of the Fluorspar Bill. Introduced H. R. 11622, a companion bill to S. 3982, which provides for stockpiling of 250,000 tons of acid grade fluorspar at $53 per ton. Also spurred action from the Office of Defense Mobilization to stockpile metallurgical grade fluorspar at a premium price. Helped obtain $21,000,000 appropriation with which to carry out the provisions of the bill. These two programs should stabilize and revitalize the entire fluorspar industry in Southern Illinois, providing more jobs.

15. Secured thousands of dollars worth of Government surplus property for municipalities, hospitals, and schools throughout Southern Illinois, including nine fire trucks.

16. Secured tentative approval for new Armory at Marion. If a suitable site can be located, an Armory to house a 200-man Army Reserve Training Center will be built costing approximately $184,000.

17. Supported Farm Program. Voted for Soil Bank Plan and worked for an increase in both corn and wheat acreage allotments. Since agriculture is one of the vital segments of our American economy, I have voted for all legislation I felt would be beneficial to the farmer, particularly the family sized farmer.

18. Supported passage of bill giving flour and cornmeal to recipients of Government surplus food. Co-sponsored H. R. 2851, a bill directing the Commodity Credit Corporation to grind up wheat and corn into wheat and cornmeal for distribution to needy persons receiving Government surplus food. In addition to providing food for thousands of jobless people, it is helping the farmer by getting rid of surplus wheat and corn which has been depressing the market.

19. Voted and worked for additional funds for school lunch program. $3,153,000 for Illinois schools was allowed for fiscal year 1957. Many Southern Illinois schools had run out of school lunch funds before the end of the school year, forcing a hardship on school children. An increase of $625,000 over last year was allowed.

20. Fought successfully against proposed sale of land at Marion Veterans Administration Hospital by the Administration in Washington.

21. Helped secure $250,000 appropriation with which to select a site for a new $9,500,000 Federal Penitentiary. As soon as a site committee is selected, I intend to see that Southern Illinois is considered, and if we meet all the necessary requirements, I am hopeful the prison can be located somewhere in my District.

22. Conferred with President Eisenhower and every Government agency and bureau in Washington, telling them of the wants and needs of the people of Southern Illinois, and soliciting assistance for various projects.

23. Contacted over 300 individuals and concerns in an effort to locate industry in Southern Illinois.

24. Secured Government loans for three industries in Southern Illinois.

25. Requested an investigation of the accidental drownings at Crab Orchard Lake, in an effort to attempt to better safety regulations and obtain rescue equipment.

26. Supported passage of a bill to aid retired railroad pension recipients.

27. Worked for the passage of a bill granting postal employees an increase in salary. (Was featured in National Postal magazine for one hundred per cent voting record for postal employees.)

28. Worked for passage of bill granting Civil Service employees an increase in retirement benefits and liberalizing eligibility for retirement.

29. Am supporting Rend Lake in Franklin County and have urged Governor Stratton to "speed up" survey report by Illinois Division of Waterways in order that some proposal can be made to the Federal Government from the information derived from the survey.

30. Secured additional appropriations for Shawnee National Forest and the Forest Research Center at Carbondale. Urged U. S. Forest Service to adopt Comte proposal, which offers a Forest Development program to provide many jobs and improve our natural timber resources.

31. Helped obtain Federal funds for hospital construction in my District.

32. Helped secure approval of loans to various Rural Electrification Cooperatives in my District, amounting to several hundred thousand dollars to extend lines to rural areas in need of electricity.

33. Helped secure Federal loans under Federal Housing Authority in order to ease the critical shortage for students at the fast-growing Southern Illinois University.

34. Worked for passage of bill establishing minimum wage of $1.00 per hour.

35. Have worked diligently for legislation affecting the coal industry. Introduced legislation, made numerous speeches, and held several conferences with the Administration in an effort to curb the foreign importation of residual oil which has drastically curtailed coal production and resulted in the loss of jobs in the coal mines. United Mine Workers Journal has written articles concerning my work in behalf of the coal industry.

36. Although busy knocking on doors in Washington, I missed only 10 roll call votes out of a total of 149 for the entire 84th Congress, first and second sessions.

37. Supported successfully the passage of S. 3879, enabling automobile dealers to bring suit in Federal Courts against manufacturers not acting in good faith in complying with terms of franchises.

38. Supported successfully the passage of H. R. 8780, a bill exempting farmers from paying 2 cents per gallon Federal tax on farm used gasoline.

39. Helped secure approval of Federal grants for five airports in my District totalling several hundred thousand dollars.

40. Served on three important committees — the full Public Works Committee, the Subcommittee on Rivers and Harbors, and the Subcommittee on Flood Control.

41. Maintained a full-time District office. For the first time in the history of Southern Illinois, we have maintained a full time, fully staffed office where the citizens may come with their problems. We have received several thousand visitors in the office during the 20 months it has been open.

42. Have received and personally answered over 75,000 letters, telegrams, and telephone calls during my 20 months in office. These included all types of requests too numerous and varied to mention. I read all incoming mail and give each one my prompt and personal attention.

In addition to supporting the above measures, I have worked just as diligently in opposing certain measures. Many bills were introduced which I felt were not in the best interest of the people whom I have the honor of representing. They are too numerous to mention, but I will give the Foreign Aid bill as an example. Sixty billion dollars have been given out to foreign countries since the start of the program and only $1.00 out of every hundred has been repaid. I do not feel that we can buy friendship, and I think this feeling is borne out by the fact that over 700 million people have come under Communist domination in the last four years. The money we now send to foreign countries may some day come back in bullets. I AM IN FAVOR OF GIVING HUNGRY PEOPLE OUR SURPLUS FOOD, but I am opposed to sending dollars that can very easily get into Communist hands and be used against us. I am for keeping these billions at home and allowing an income tax reduction after a balanced budget.

It is my sincere desire that the twenty months it has been my privilege to be your Congressman, and the program I have been able to carry out, will be of much valuable assistance to all of the people of Southern Illinois. I have worked long and hard and, through the combined efforts of my colleagues in the House and Senate, we are selling Southern Illinois to the Congress and the rest of the Nation. It is my hopeful prayer that, by working together, we may continue to progress. For giving me this opportunity, may I say once again in closing . . . THANKS A MILLION!

Sincerely,

KENNETH J. GRAY
Your Congressmam

Cattle Need High Quality Roughage

DAVIS, Calif. (AP)—A University of California agriculture specialist advises stockmen that the higher the quality of roughage, the less concentrate will be needed to fatten beef cattle.

Assistant Professor James H. Meyer told a meeting at the UC Agriculture College campus here that "roughage is the cheapest and most readily available source of nutrients for ruminants."

"Good quality lowers the amount of feed needed, on the range or otherwise," he said.

Meyer listed the following factors as determining the high quality in roughage:

The less fiber the better. Even though cattle need a certain amount of fiber in food, it should be kept low.

The fiber itself will be of better quality through the absence of lignin.

Items of Agricultural Interest

- Will reduce surpluses by reduced production
- Will increase farm income
- Will protect land for future use

The National Soil Bank program will help reduce price-depressing surpluses of wheat, corn, cotton, peanuts, rice and tobacco without placing all of the burden on the farmer, the U. S. Department of Agriculture says in announcing the 1957 Soil Bank program. Surpluses of these six "basic" crops have continued to pile up despite production controls and intensive marketing programs here and abroad. The 1957 Acquire Reserve encourages farmers to cut production below their acreage allotments and corn bases, with payments for acreage reduction to help maintain or improve net farm income. Under the Conservation Reserve, farmers receive payments for land taken out of production and conserved for future use. Participation in the Soil Bank will not affect future establishment of State, county, or farm allotments. The Soil Bank supplements other farm programs. The County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee will assist farmers in planning their participation in the Soil Bank.

SIU Country Column Benson Gives Optimistic Farm Report

By Albert Meyer

Farm and home fire losses tend to increase as winter approaches. Many such fires result from causes related to home heating plants—causes which may be prevented by using reasonable care and getting equipment ready for winter before the cold days arrive.

The modern trend, of course, is toward automatic or semi-automatic types of heating plants, using gas or oil instead of coal and wood. Then the occupant of the house needs only to adjust the thermostat to the desired temperature and forget such former distasteful chores as cutting wood, shoveling coal and carrying out ashes.

However, a surprising number of coal-fired furnaces and coal or wood stoves still are used for home heating. Here the danger of a disastrous house-destroying fire is ever present as cold weather arrives and artificial heat is needed for comfort. Improper use of the furnace or stove, faulty equipment, or carelessness are frequent causes of fires. It ought to be pointed out in passing that automatic heating equipment cannot be ruled out as fire hazards under these categories.

Fred W. Roth, agricultural engineer at Southern Illinois University, says the best way to prevent farm and home fires is to remove the causes — many and varied though these may be. For the heating plant this means checking the equipment before time to put it into operation, cleaning it and making necessary repairs. Rusted or burned out smoke pipes should be replaced. Old chimneys may be unsafe and require repairs. Safe containers and safe handling practices for disposing of hot ashes is essential in homes where wood or coal is used for fuel.

Improper use of electricity is a second important cause of fires. In the fall such appliances as electric heaters and heat lamps replace fans and air conditioners. Often the electric wiring in homes where electric service has existed for ten years or more may be in poor condition, or, at least, is inadequate for the growing number of appliances and lamps that are in use today. Modernization of the wiring may be necessary. Too often the fuses used are too large for safety. In most cases 15 ampere fuses are the largest that should be used on branch circuits.

Extension and lamp cords need periodic inspection for worn or frayed spots. If these cannot be repaired satisfactorily, the safest practice is to replace them with new cords. The job isn't difficult and the cost is little, yet may mean the prevention of a costly home fire.

Flammable liquids — gasoline, kerosene and certain dry-cleaning fluids — frequently cause fires. Starting fires in stoves or furnaces with gasoline or kerosene, of course, is never safe. All too often newspaper articles recount the tragic loss of lives and homes because of carelessness with these liquids.

It always is dangerous to use gasoline for dry cleaning. Only safe solvents, such as carbon tetrachloride, should be used in the home for this purpose.

Another fire hazard is an accumulation of trash in or around the home. Roth advises cleaning out piles of paper and old clothing regularly because these may ignite spontaneously and burn down the house. Such things as oily cloths and dust mops are especially dangerous when stored in a small closet. It is safer to keep them hanging in the open where there is adequate air circulation.

Cheap Paints May Be Most Expensive

Cheap paints may be the most expensive in the long run, says John W. Matthews of the University of Illinois agricultural engineering department.

Because cheap paints have poor lasting and spreading qualities, the more expensive high-quality paints are preferable for general and touch-up painting. Paint quality depends on the vehicle and pigments, and their proportions. Linseed oil is one of the best proven vehicles and white lead is standard good-quality pigment. A mixture of zinc oxide, titanium dioxide and white lead makes a cleaner, less chalky and more durable paint.

For an excellent job and lasting quality, the surface to be painted should be dry, relatively smooth, and clean, Matthews says.

Generally two coats are necessary, and on new work three are desirable. A primer coat fills up pore space and wets the surface, insuring a good bond for later coats. The primer should be a special or thinned paint.

The best time to paint is in early summer or fall, when the temperature is above 50 degrees and when weather conditions are stable. Hot weather causes rapid drying and expansion of surface, which causes cracking and scaling. Slow drying results from painting when the temperature is below 50 degrees. This causes stickiness and running together, and insects and dirt may mix in with the paint.

The size of the paint job will probably determine whether you spray or brush paint. Very satisfactory work can be done by spraying, which saves time and labor. However, on rough and porous surfaces, brush painting may be better, Matthew adds.

Keep Livestock Out Of The Woods

Prevention is the best cure for plant poisoning in your livestock. And the best way to prevent plant poisoning is to keep your animals out of the woods, says Harold Scholten, extension forester at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Figures have not been collected to show how much money plant poisoning costs Illinois farmers each year in death loss and non-production, Scholten says. But there is one report where the estimated loss to a farmer caused by white snakeroot over several years amounted to $20,000.

About a dozen species of plants are poisonous to animals, according to the forester. And five of these are trees. Some, of course, are more poisonous than others. Generally all can prove fatal if the animal eats enough either at one time or over a longer time.

Poisonous plants include buttercups, larkspur, Dutchman's breeches, jack-in-the-pulpit, pokeberry, bracken fern and white snakeroot. The trees include the oaks, Kentucky coffee tree, Ohio buckeye, black locust and cherries.

Sometimes it's the leaves, sometimes the roots or other parts of the plants that contain the poisonous materials, Scholten says. Best policy is to keep your animals away from all of them.

Fight Against Yellow Dwarf

URBANA—Scientists completed another lap in their race against oat diseases when they recently harvested 3,700 different oat varieties at the Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station in Urbana.

C. M. Brown of the agronomy department at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture and R. M. Takeshita of the U. S. Department of Agriculture Agricultural Research Service are using seed from the USDA world collection in their research.

They are working now to perfect an oat variety that is resistant to the damaging virus disease known as "yellow dwarf" or "red leaf" before the disease severely hits oat crops in Illinois.

Takeshita recently confirmed that tiny aphids transmit this disease from plant to plant. He then grew aphids on diseased plants in the greenhouse and placed them on healthy plants in the field. It took the aphids only three days to infect the healthy plants and they were then destroyed by spraying.

In this way the 3,700 different varieties were infected. At harvest time, the scientists selected varieties that showed high resistance. Plant breeders will breed these resistant varieties with high yielding plants to produce better varieties.

The USDA estimates that research such as this has put an extra billion dollars in the pockets of oat growers during the last 20 years at a cost of slightly more than $3 million for research—a $1,000 return for every $3 spent.

About 80 per cent of the nation's oat crop is grown in the north-central states, and about half of that total in Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin. Farmers in Illinois therefore stand to benefit greatly from the oat research at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture and the Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station.

FRIENDLY TABERNACLES

The author of the 84th Psalm was a great lover of the earthly habitations of God. The temples, shrines and holy places of Israel were his chief delight. He found them friendly, inviting and comforting to his soul.

In one of his moments of spiritual ecstasy he broke forth in song: "How amiable are thy tabernacles, O Lord of hosts!" he sang. "My soul longeth, even fainteth for the courts of the Lord."

There are millions today who look upon God's earthly houses—the churches of the land—in much the same way. They are glad when the church hour comes and they can mingle with others in worship and spiritual fellowship.

The church around the corner or over in the next block is not a cold and formal place, once you come to know it. It breathes friendliness and sympathy. It comforts and inspires and points the way to a kind and loving God.

Come to Church on Sunday and enjoy the fellowship of God's people.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'The Kingdom Of This World'

Revelation 7:9-17
GOLDEN TEXT: "The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Christ; and he shall reign for ever and ever." (Revelation 11:15)

INTRODUCTION—The book of Revelation was meant to be a book of encouragement to Christian people. The Christians, who lived in the day that John the Revelator received this vision from God, were suffering severely at the hands of the Roman government. It was a day of discouragement and heartbreak for them.

This book of Revelation was written to them in symbolic language so that they could understand its message but the Roman non-Christian could not. This book has in it a message of comfort, encouragement and victory for Christians of every generation.

The tragedy is that so many false interpretations of the book have been made. It has become a battleground for some theological warriors. To all such there is no real comfort to be found in its message. However, to those who read this message with the leadership of the Holy Spirit, there is comfort.

I. MULTITUDES WILL BE SAVED (V. 9)
A friend once tried to convince me that there would be only 144,000 people in heaven. He was missing the mark. We are told in this passage that there will be "a multitude which no man can number" in heaven.

Sometimes preachers and churches are prone to become discouraged when folks are not being saved. One of these days Christian people will be in a multitude of redeemed, and all discouragement shall vanish.

There is only one way whereby any person can become one among that multitude of the redeemed. He must come to God in confession of all his sins, repent (turn away from sin) and trust Jesus Christ as Savior. "There is none other name given among men whereby ye must be saved."

II. THE RANSOMED SHALL SING (V. 10-12)
You may not be able to "carry a tune in a bucket" here on earth, but you will sing in heaven's choir, if you are a Christian. I do not know what kind of a voice you will have, but I do know what kind of a song you will sing. We are told here that the redeemed will join their voices together in singing songs of praise and thanksgiving.

You think you are grateful for salvation now, but just wait! When you stand in the presence of the eternal God, and the full realization of what He has done for you dawns upon your mind, you will bubble over with songs of thanksgiving.

III. WASHED IN THE BLOOD OF THE LAMB (V. 13-14)

Yes, those who find themselves in heaven in the life to come will be there because they have been "washed in the blood of the lamb." Jesus Christ is that Lamb. He paid the ransom price for your soul on cruel Calvary's Cross. He shed His precious blood that your sins might be washed away.

Listen, friend, if you have never become a Christian, a follower of Christ, you ought to do so right now. You should pause where you are, go to God in prayer (talk to God), and ask Him to forgive you of all your sins. He has promised to forgive you of every sin of your life, no matter what you have done, if you will only confess to Him those sins and trust His Son, Jesus Christ, as your Savior.

CONCLUSION—ETERNAL BLESSINGS (V. 15-17)

Here we find that after this life, in the life to come, we shall enjoy blessings for ever and for ever. There shall be no more hunger nor thirst. He will lead us to the "living fountains of water." We will rejoice in serving Him "both day and night." There shall be no sorrow there, because "God shall wipe away all tears."

Remember, these blessings are only in store for those who love God and follow His Son as Savior. "Today is the day of salvation; now is the accepted time." Why not come to Him now?

Bull Dogs Bow to Marion, 20-0

Locals Show Little Signs Of Attack Until Final Minutes of Last Period

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs, still looking around for some kind of attack, found the Marion backs a bit too speedy last night and bowed to the Wildcats, 20 to 0, in a South Seven conference football game played at Marion.

The locals never even threatened except in the final minutes when they moved from their own 25 to the Marion 20 when time ran out. They had one first down the first three periods and brought the number up to a more respectable five by rolling off four the last frame.

Marion scored once in the first, second and fourth periods. After the locals fumbled the ball away at the outset, Marion moved to the H-3 and lost on downs. But six plays later quarterback Jim Anderson passed to his twin brother, Jack, and the receiver raced to score on a 28-yard pass play. Brother Jim place-kicked the extra point.

Scoring Drive in Fourth
Early in the second quarter Brother Jack romped 56 yards to score again but this time brother Jim's place-kick attempt was no good.

Harrisburg played pretty good defensive ball throughout the rest of the half and during the entire third quarter, but could not get an attack to rolling at all.

The fourth quarter saw Marion moving again, however. The Wildcats started a drive on the M-29 which took them all the way. Runs of 20 yards by Joe Gully, 14 yards by Jack Anderson and 13 yards by Harold Merriweather were the big gains, with Gully going over for the final six yards to make the count 19-0. Jim Anderson place-kicked the extra point.

Harrisburg made its second first down when Mickey Stone, a starting halfback, passed 19 yards to Bob Clark. The only sustained

Bruins Squeak Past Utah, 13-7

By United Press
If Friday night's narrow squeaker over Utah is an accurate guide the 1956 season is going to be a rough one for once-mighty UCLA, the pride of the Pacific Coast Conference and the nation's fourth ranked team last year.

The Bruins, hampered by their own eagerness to field the best team possible, showed signs of weakness in their opening game of the season and only the all-around play of tailback Doug Gradley kept them from defeat. The scrappy Gradley, limited to five games by PCC edict, ran and passed UCLA to a 13-7 victory before 37,088 fans in Los Angeles' Memorial Coliseum.

Utah, which finished second in the Skyline Conference last year, was unable to put on a sustained drive and this more than the play of the Bruins figured in the final outcome.

Alleged Recruiting Violations
UCLA was punished earlier this year when the PCC cracked down because of recruiting violations. There are a host of eye-catching games on tap around the country on the first full Saturday of the collegiate season, but the two games which are expected to draw the biggest fan interest involve Notre Dame-Southern Methodist and Georgia Tech-Kentucky.

The traveling Irish meet the Mustangs under the lights in Dallas with a crowd of about 60,000 looked for in the Cotton Bowl. Notre Dame, minus eight of last year's regulars, is favored by 13, mostly because of star quarterback Paul Hornung.

The Georgia Tech-Kentucky game is the first of the NCAA's weekly nationally televised attractions. NBC begins telecasting the action from Lexington, Ky., at 3:15 p. m. EDT. The Engineers, 7-0 winners over Pittsburgh's Panthers in the 1956 Sugar Bowl, are favored by 10 points.

Champaign Rolls to 80-0 Victory; Centralia and Benton Battle to 13-13 Tie

By United Press
Champaign's powerhouse Maerons mauled Quincy Notre Dame 80-0 to rack up the highest score on the Friday night Illinois prep football card and shatter all previous Maaron scoring marks.

The triumph was Champaign's second lopsided victory of the season and secured its ranking as the team to beat in the tough Big 12 Conference.

Arcola's Purple Riders pasted St. Elmo 25-0 to register their first win of the season and their 18th in a row over the past three years.

Pana kept another win streak going, dropping Vandalia 14-6 to open defense of their Midstate title and notch their 11th win in a row.

The Big Eight defending champions from Elgin rocked Thornton Harvey 20-7, strengthening their position as favorite in this year's conference race.

One winning streak was cut short Thursday night when the Galesburg Silver Streaks slammed Peoria Woodruff 13-0 for the Warriors' first loss in 15 games.

In southern Illinois, Murphysboro's always powerful Red Devils started defense of their Southwest Egyptian co-championship by stopping Pinckneyville 12-6.

Centralia, picked to wrest the South Seven title from Herrin, could do no better than tie Benton 13-13. Herrin, meanwhile, was ab-

Braves Within Two Points Of Dodgers After Win Over Cubs; Pirates Halt Brooklyn

By United Press
Lew Burdette, often accused of throwing a spitter, can whet Milwaukee's pennant appetite to a new high today by pitching the Braves back into the National League lead for the first time since Sept. 14.

Those same tantalizing two percentage points stood between the struggling Braves and first place Brooklyn today following their 6-4 victory over the Cubs Friday night while the league-leading Dodgers lost to the "spoiler" Pirates, 2-1.

Burdette, who has tried four times in vain for his 19th victory, holds the key to Milwaukee's immediate fortunes. He faces hard-throwing, toothpick-chewing Sam Jones of the Cubs and if he can beat Chicago—and of course if Pittsburgh can defeat Brooklyn again — the Braves will move back into first place for the first time in more than a week.

Erskine vs. Law
Carl Erskine, troubled by arm soreness off and on this season, will pitch for the Dodgers while Vern Law is slated to start for the Pirates.

The Braves took advantage of three unearned runs to beat the Cubs Friday night.

Milwaukee got a 3-0 jump on loser Warren Hacker in the first two innings and then loaded the bases in the sixth. A passed ball by catcher Harry Chiti permitted one run to score and Ernie Banks' error on Del Crandall's grounder led in two more. That was the ball game even though Monte Irvin tagged Warren Spahn for a homer in the seventh and the Cubs drove the veteran lefthander to the showers with a three-run barrage in the eighth. Gene Conley mopped up and preserved Spahn's 19th victory.

Thomas The Villain
Frank Thomas was the villain as far as the Dodgers were concerned. His 23rd homer with one on in the seventh inning snapped Sal Maglie's six-game winning streak and powered Ronnie Kline to his 14th victory.

Brooklyn's only run off Kline came in the seventh when Gil Hodges doubled, moved to third on an infield out and came home on Junior Gilliam's infield hit.

Cincinnati kept its slim pennant hopes alive with a 9-1 victory over St. Louis. Wally Pate pounded out his 33rd and 34th homers and Joe Nuxhall hurled a five-hitter for his 13th triumph. The victory, achieved at the expense of Vinegar Bend Mizell, moved Cincinnati within three games of the lead.

Left-hander Johnny Antonelli racked up his 18th victory by pitching the Giants to a 7-3 decision over the Phillies. The Giants broke up the game with a seven-
